MEDICINAL.

Just a glimpse of a woman's face is often all that is needed to tell the story of her daily suffering. No woman can endure for long the pangs of womanly diseases without falling off in face and form.

Women who have been cured of womanly diseases by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, frequently refer with pleasure to the gain in appearance as well as in feelings, which has come with their cure.

"Favorite Prescription" cures irregularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence treated as sacredly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Your medicines have done me so much good I feel like a different woman," writes Mrs. Mary Murphy, of Milton, Tennessee. "Six months ago I began to think I would not see another winter day, but had made up my mind to follow your advice and give Dr. Pierce's medicine a thorough trial. I have taken six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' six of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' four of 'Smart-Weed,' and 'Lotion Tablets.' Have gained five pounds since last August. I will tell the good news to all suffering invalids, for it was a 'Heavenly message' to me when I found out what to do for relief."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

The People's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered edition, or 3 stamps for the cloth-bound volume, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SALT AS CANCER CAUSE.

Experiments in the treatment of cancer by the Roentgen rays in America are watched with great interest by the medical profession in London. Face cancer has been successfully treated at the London Skin Hospital and at present there is a case of breast cancer undergoing similar treatment at the same place with encouraging results.

The London Lancet publishes a long article by Dr. James Brailwaite, advancing the theory that an excess of salt in the diet is one of the four factors which originate cancer.

"It is an essential factor," he says, "but it is inoperative without at least one or probably two of the others. Excess of salt may arise from individual taste or from eating too much salt meat or too much ordinary meat, which, of course, involves much salt. Other factors are an over-nourished condition of the body from too food, specially more meat, than is required; in impure condition of the blood owing to not-use and non-oxidation of food with which it is taken. It obtains in persons who lead indolent, easy, indoor lives, and locally in organic disease of the functions of which have ceased. The fourth factor is some local irritant or stimulant such as friction from the stem of a pipe or irritation from some micro-organism of which no one is actually specific. Of these the first must always be present, probably in some form the fourth, and also in all either the second or third, but not both of them."

These ideas originated in the mind of Dr. Brailwaite by his noting that cancer is seldom met with among the numerous Jewish girls attending the yeshiva, a department of the London Jewish Hospital, who have furnished only one case in ten years. Dr. A. C. F. Smith, medical officer until recently at the Jewish Hospital for incurables, writes he has never seen a case of cancer among Jewish patients.

"It is this comparative immunity is correct," says Dr. Brailwaite, "the only explanation is the difference in the diet and the nature of diet. The latter is far more probable than the former. Difference of diet between Jews and Gentiles consists mainly in the absence of bacon and ham from the diet of the former; and as, according to Prof. J. McFadyen, principal of the Royal Veterinary College, the pig is the only domestic animal in which a case of cancer has been met with, it must be salt and not the flesh of the animal which is to blame. Jews also abstain from meat and more fowl and fish. These points all tend to the conclusion that salt is an active factor."

"Nothing can be clearer about cancer than the fact that its incidence is connected with diet and the only constant present thing in the daily diet is salt. It does not matter what the rest of the food may be, salt must be present in excess. Considering the patient's occupation and mode of life, if salt is not in cancer is absent. Savages, so far as known, are exempt from cancer, and they eat little salt."

"All domestic animals, except the pig, are subject to cancer, and salt is given to sheep, cows and horses, but never to pigs. Wild carnivores, with the exception of man, are exempt. On the other hand, when confined in zoological gardens they are given salt, and they have become subject to cancer."

REPORTED TO HAVE DIED.—A dispatch from Amsterdam says that Maj. Van Tets died Thursday evening. Van Tets was wounded in defense of Queen Wilhelmina by Prince Henry. Van Tets was one of the ten youths who formed the bodyguard of the smiling Queen when she was married in February, and who have since been at their royal mistress's beck and call on every occasion. It is whispered that one of the ten handsome youths who surround her majesty's carriage when she drives abroad, skate with her when she skates, ride with her when she rides, and dance attendance on her generally has been at one time or another over head and ears in love with the dainty little lady in whom Holland's hopes are centered. Official contradictions notwithstanding, nobody at The Hague doubts for a moment that the Queen and her consort have been at loggerheads practically since the wedding. Prince Henry is an unpleasant person. He eats too much and drinks too freely, and hunting occupies him far more than his wife; Wilhelmina, on her side, is not a woman to allow herself to be won by flattery. It is said that she has been so much won by her husband's hands and insisted on her husband begging pardon of the Joubert as well as of herself before she would forgive him. All the romance of the marriage of Queen Wilhelmina and the man she herself chose has disappeared, but peace prevails at the castle at present.

MASTER'S OFFICE, Custom House Building, Alexandria, Va., November 30, 1901.

To all Whom It May Concern: Take notice, That on WEDNESDAY, December 11, 1901, at 11 o'clock a. m., at my office as Special Master, in the Custom House Building, at Alexandria, Virginia, I shall proceed to execute the decree rendered November 19, 1901, by the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Virginia, in the suit of John W. Griggs and Elbridge S. Johnson, trustees, vs. Consumers' Brewing Company, which requires me to ascertain and report as follows: The amount and number of the bonds issued and outstanding secured by the several mortgages mentioned in the said suit, and the amount due thereon, and to whom due, and also all other debts of Consumers' Brewing Company, and if at all, any of them is a lien upon the assets of said company, and their relative priorities in order of payment, and also what amount is reasonable compensation to the complainants, trustees, for their services, and also what will be a reasonable fee to be allowed to counsel for said complainants and defendant, respectively for their services in this cause, and also any other proper and reasonable mortgage charges against said company. And the persons interested will produce before me, or upon oath, all books, accounts, deeds, and other papers and writings, in their possession, or under their control relating thereto. At which time and place you are required to attend.

Given under my hand, as Special Master of said court, this 30th day of November, A. D., 1901.

JOHN S. FOWLER, Special Master.
